BSL 1

ATCC determines the biosafety level of a material based on our risk assessment as guided by the current edition of Biosafety in Microbiological and Biomedical Laboratories (BMBL), U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. It is your responsibility to understand the hazards associated with the material per your organization's policies and procedures as well as any other applicable regulations as enforced by your local or national agencies.

Certificate of Analysis

For batch-specific test results, refer to the applicable certificate of analysis that can be found at www.atcc.org.

Notes

D8S84 has been mapped to 8p on the human chromosome. The primer with the designation ending L and the ATCC number ending A is for the CA strand; the primer with the designation ending R and the ATCC number ending B is for the GT strand. The following allele sizes (bp) have been determined in these CEPH individuals (cells available from the NIGMS Human Genetic Mutant Cell Repository): 133101--185, 193; 133102--185, 185.
